DETAILED ACTION

The examiner failed to restrict all of the instant claims that are pending in the application as an amended set of claims was filed on 6/28/04 but was mistakenly not acknowledged by the examiner.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-16,18-29 and 54-62 drawn to a water insoluble nanoparticle.

Group II, claim(s) 30,31 and 66-71 are drawn to a pharmaceutical composition.

Group III, claim(s) 32-36,63 and 72-77 are drawn to the use of water insoluble nanoparticle.

Group IV, claim(s) 37-45,64 and 65 are drawn to a method for neutron capture therapy.

Group V, claim(s) 46-49 and 78-83 are drawn to a process for the preparation of water insoluble nanoparticle.

1. The inventions listed as Groups I-V do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Water insoluble nanoparticles having a neutron capture element (i.e. thulium oxide) are known in the art for the use of neutron capture therapy (i.e. treatment of cancer, etc.) (WO01/34196A; p1, [0008]; p2, [0025]). Water insoluble nanoparticles (gadopentetic acid (Gd-DTPA)-loaded chitosan nanoparticles) are known for gadolinium neutron capture therapy (Pharm. Res. 1999, 16, p1830-1835; abstract).

2. In the instant case the preparation and use of water insoluble nanoparticles, such as gadopentetic acid (Gd-DTPA)-loaded chitosan nanoparticles for neutron capture therapy are disclosed in Pharm. Res. 1999, 16, p1830-1835; especially p 1831).

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows: please choose one of each species.

If applicant chooses group I:

- 1.) neutron capture element.
- 2.) neutron capture element form.
- 3.) biocompatible outer layer.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: 1 -83

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The selection of a different neutron capture element will generate various compounds that deliver different types of radiation (i.e. boron-10 delivers short-range alpha particles, gadolinium-157 delivers gamma rays and Auger electrons, etc.). The different forms of neutron capture element allows for removal or retention of the water insoluble nanoparticles and thus various levels of toxicity. Ultimately the search required of each species would require an undue burden of search by the office Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
